

Everybody's NOT doing it.

Join the real majority.

Discussion/Self-Reflection Questions

Vignette Title: A Little Knowledge is Dangerous

- Have you taken a sex education class in middle or high school? How much do you think you really know about sexual relationships? What are some of the myths you have heard about sex?
- From whom or where do you get your information about important issues? How do you know if it is accurate? Do you think most teens believe some of these myths? How can you make sure you have the real facts?
- According to the Centers for Disease Control, one in four girls today has an STD. With all of the sex education today, how do you think that is possible?
- There are lots of decisions to be made as a teen. Beyond sex, what other activities are you just “not ready” for?